Lease Holders Will Hold Conference With C. P. R. Official

Don H. Bark, of Brooks, Will Hear Complaints of Grading Lease Holders at Meeting in Bassano on February 16

The complaints of the farmers and ranchers over their grading leases on C. P. R. land will be heard in Bassano on February 14 by Don H. Bark, of Brooks. The conference is to take place in the Imperial Hotel at 2 o'clock p.m.

Lease holders are dissatisfied with the terms of their leases. They believe the rental is too high, and they are seeking a reduction of charges on a basis similar to that at which government grading leases may be obtained. It is understood the government lease grading land for seven cents an acre, while C. P. R. have been charging from six to eight cents an acre. 1920 was the first year the C. P. R. grading lease scheme was put into effect.

Gasoline Supply Truck Burns Near Rosemary

Joe Harris, Imperial Oil Agent, Losses Valuable Truck—Driver Runs to Safety Before Tank Explodes

Fiat had Tuesday destroyed the Rec truck owned by Joe Harris, Imperial Oil agent at Bassano, and used by him for hauling gasoline and oil. The truck, which was insured, cost about $2000 three years ago. At the time of the fire the truck was carrying a load of about 65 gallons of gasoline and 25 gallons of kerosene. The tanks and "heads" contents were destroyed.

Mr. Harris was driving along the road some four miles south of Rosemary about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Suddenly he stopped the truck and got out to inspect. The fire was around the motor and in a few seconds spread to the tank. He then ran to the side of the road and, after getting the flames under control, ran to a distance so as to be out of danger should the tanks explode. The tanks did explode in a few minutes.

THE RUSSIAN GIANT STIRS

(by William Hammel)

During wartime emotional excitement runs high. The civilian population is disengaged from its normal pursuits and it is not definitely forbidden to do so. Judging by what is generally written and said about Russia, one would think Canada, along with the United States and several other countries, was not far behind her.

For certainly in most discussions about Russia emotion has come in through the door while reason has gone out of the window. It is time we were reconstructing our habits of thought of that country. We must learn to think in terms of the Soviet system, which we take heavily吸取, as far as the unspeakably inhuman convicts camped on the shores of the Arctic, and the enrolment of the Red Guards, and the wholesale execution of those who opposed the regime is firmly fixed in the saddle, and seems likely to continue, for some years to come. So, though dislike it and disagree with it, it is better to live with it than to let go of it.

The need for some change becomes increasingly clear when one considers Canada imports millions of pounds of butter annually from Russia.

It is interesting to notice in these days when no one sees in that Hussia is inserting advertisements in large Canadian dailies, seeking skilled machine operators to fill places in her factories.

To the extent that these offers are accepted, our country will be compelled to import more and more from Russia.

Rather than make Bolsheviks of the men so hard put to it or so adventurous as to accept the Soviet proposition, the discontents and haughty ostracism which they encounter there, will make them turn to Canada for employment. It is to be expected that Russia will retain foreign workers indefinitely.

Just as soon as her own relatively unmechanized citizenry have become sufficiently conversant with their native language, they will begin to naturally displace foreign labour.

By that time business will doubtless be booming again.

And so to the self-appointed experts who are returning to a land which is happily in a position to offer them employment.

The advertisements referred to offered such extra inducements as free transportation and wages, and so on.

Judging by the rates of violence perpetrated in Russia, the last mentioned perquisite ought to mean much to those contemplating making the journey. They are apt to require plenty of time to adjust themselves to a new environment, a somewhat necessary warning, indeed, to any "Keep Out" placard ever could be.

The Gem school board held a meet-prize—no matter how low—should be so vigorously pursued at this time of year. In summer, when Canada's wheat crop is harvested, we are finding foreign markets with great difficulty. The large Russian wheat has naturally helped to depress prices and world-wide greater hardship to western farmer.

At present, however, high prices, which indeed handicaps us, tend to result in good in the end. A strong tendency towards mixed farming may be expected to develop, and that is movement deserving of encouragement.

He who depends on agriculture, on what he has in his living, has all his eggs in one basket, and what is most vulnerable is the enemy and the ministry have not appeared all as comfortable as they might pretend.

Premier Browne is said to be anxious to get on with the business.

The ministry is forced to the long drawn debate on the speech from the throne in a close.

Up to Monday the ministry had not been represented in the list of speakers, except by Hon. Perren E. Bell, Hon. L. McPherson and others of whom spent considerable time in answering hot thrusts from the opposition speakers.

Premier Browne is following his usual tactic in the house and withholding his own fire until every other speaker, or the most dangerous of them, have exhausted their orations.

The main attack has come from the Liberal benches so far. The conservative leader made a strong and forceful attack on the government's announced policy of the farmers' party and was stoned at it as soon as it was introduced.

He urged the return of a system that would place a more representative government in office.

Mr. D. M. Duggan, however, was not so easily beaten. In his place for one in admiringly laudatory of the government's policy, he said:

"The Conservative party is a waste of time and energy. It is not to be expected that Russia will retain foreign workers indefinitely.

Just as soon as her own relatively unmechanized citizenry have become sufficiently conversant with their native language, they will begin to naturally displace foreign labour."

By that time business will doubtless be booming again.

It is happy to note that a war is happily in a position to offer them employment.

Canadian Citizenship

The question arises more or less frequently in the minds of immigrants from Canada whether the obtaining of the rights and privileges of citizenship by people born outside Britain can be secured in the past and up to this present time, has been made entirely too easy and more a matter of form than the vitally important matter of national policy it undoubtedly is.

There can be no escaping the fact that, in these Western Provinces, at all events, there are people who have taken naturalization papers, thereby becoming Canadian citizens, Britons by birth, with no higher motive than to secure title to 160 acres of land to which in all other respects they had become entitled by virtue of having performed the specified settlement and cultivation duties. Hundreds of others have applied for and secured citizenship papers because they found it politic and good business to do so, while hundreds more have taken the long and tedious process of pressure brought to bear upon them to do so in order that they may do so.

Admittedly these are not very high or worthy motives on the part of those thus granted all the citizenship rights and privileges accruing to native-born Canadians and others of British birth. But, on the other hand, it is not a fact that large numbers of men who became Canadian citizens in the first place did so to be admitted to the rights and privileges of Canadian citizenship and the status and the future of Canada thus secured, became active, keen and patriotic Canadians of a worthwhile type? Indeed, have not many others, who became naturalized in order that they might vote, through the very fact that they did possess the franchise and had a voice in questions, begin to study national issues, and work for the advancement and welfare of Canada in a manner they would never have done lacking such franchises?

Undoubtedly these things are true, but, nevertheless, the question remains insolent whether even these gratifying developments would not have been further encouraged if the securing of the rights of citizenship had not been quite so easy, a mere matter of form, and the observance of a certain minimum of time required to be admitted to the rights and privileges of citizenship and the state, the future of Canada thus secured, became active, keen and patriotic Canadians of a worthwhile type? Indeed, have not many others, who became naturalized in order that they might vote, through the very fact that they did possess the franchise and had a voice in questions, begin to study national issues, and work for the advancement and welfare of Canada in a manner they would never have done lacking such franchises?

It may be questioned whether Canada will wise to make 160 acres of free land available to those who apply for naturalization that it would probably have been even more unwise to have granted full legal title to homesteads to unnaturalized aliens. However, what is past is past and cannot be undone. But what of the future?

Valuable as the grant of a free homestead may have been, its value is small to that attaching to Canadian citizenship. That is the fact we must remember.

Membership in the greatest of all rights, and indeed the most valuable and precious privileges any man can enjoy. And in the giving or withholding of citizenship, the State may be deciding its own future for good or ill.

Because that is true, there should be safe support of the view that no man should be denied the right to be a citizen, but should be given a choice that the act of naturalization should be a purely voluntary act, free from any persuasion or influence. Further, that the State should exercise its prerogative and confer citizenship only upon those likely to prove worthy of it. Finally, that instead of the act of naturalization being a mere formality, it should be made a very solemn act, surrounded with dignity, and the ceremony of admission to the rights and privileges such as to impress upon the applicant a clear realization of what he is doing in the meaning of the pledges he gives, and the responsibilities he thereby assumes.

It may be necessary to change the present law in order to bring this about. In all probability such change will be necessary. Very well, then; let us change the law. It can at best be little more than a change of form, but it can be a great change in substance. The spirit of Canadian citizenship should be appraised by us at its true value, the whole spirit of the act of naturalization will change, and those seeking citizenship will realize that it is a heritage we guard jealousy, one we do not confer lightly or merely at a price, but one we deem to be the highest privilege within our power to extend to a fellow-man or woman. Then, and not till then, will the "I am a Canadian citizen" hold the full value of Paul's proud boast of old: "Civis Romanus sum!"

Mustapha Kemal Thinks Turkish Women Should Bear Arms
—Mr. Gazi, Minister of War, thinks Turkish women should be soldiers. Addressing a girls' normal school at Smyrna he said there was no reason why they should not bear arms like men. "Women," he said, "nowadays demand a duty, not the least of which is military service." Not physiological consideration, but baseless prejudices actually prevent women from bearing arms, he asserted.
"In ancient times women fought shoulder to shoulder with men. Modern society presents no fundamental obstacle to women becoming soldiers."

Invents Infant Plane

Genoese Claims Speed of Sixty Miles An Hour
An aeronaut weighing 66 pounds, which converts a pilot into a flying machine, is the brain child of a young Genoese inventor. It consists of two wings, 18 feet wide, a rudder and elevator, and a five horsepower motor. The "plane," which is driven by a propeller, is fastened to the shoulder blades of the pilot, who wears skis. As the pilot skids along with the assistance of the motor, he gathers enough momentum to take off. The inventor claims a speed of 60 miles an hour for the infant plane, which has a parachute large enough to bring both pilot and plane safely to earth.

New Fruit Not Yet Named

Resembling an orange distended at each side like a tangerine and having a taste distinctly tangierine with the flavor of the grape fruit, a new fruit has been discovered near Bowral, New South Wales, at a government farm at Victoria. It was produced by cross-pollination of the tangerine and the grape fruit. It has not been named because there is only one tree. It is estimated that it will take seven years to produce a crop sufficient to supply the market.

Advocates Plan For Debtors Nations Of United States To Improve Conditions

Edward H. Flynn, who was a member of the Great War debts commission, said in an address prepared for delivery before the Chicago association of commerce that the 16 debtors nations of the United States should be induced to honor and the United States should simultaneously reduce their war debts.

He said the debtor nations were formerly the best customers of the United States and that the country could not return to the United States markets for goods, causing a profitable resumption in industry and export markets.

He said the 10-year plan whereby the total war debt would amount to fifty per cent of the total war debts due the United States, with but slight tax increase in the United States.

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Most people who suffer either occasionally or chronically from gas, nervousness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, stomach tonics, mineral waters and various concoctions, instead, taken a tea-spoonful or four tablets of Magnesia after meals. This has relieved the trouble and has given better health. Those who use Bismuthous Magnesia after meals, find it a good time because they know this good medicine can be obtained from any good druggist. It cures gas, relieves nervousness, strengthens the stomach, sweetens the stomach, aids in digestion, etc. Try this plan yourself, you will find it a valuable remedy especially prepared for stomach use.

Waives Claim To Salary

Lord Byng Does Not Accept Payment During Absence Through Illness

It is understood that during his absence from Scotland Yard, Lord Byng, Chief Commissioner of Metropolitan Police, has relinquished the salary attached to his office ($18,000 annually).

His lordship, former commander of the Canadian corps in France and later Canadian Governor-General, was invited to the British Isles to attend the coronation of King George VI.

During his stay in the south of France, Lord Byng is keeping constantly in touch with Scotland Yard, especially concerning the working of the Home Office road force under the Road Traffic Act.

The question of his successor — if he decides to resign — is, therefore not regarded as a matter for immediate consideration.

Maintain Banks Always Helpful to the Farmers

Toronto, Ont.—Statements made by Hon. Robert Woir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, regarding Canadian banks and the financial situation in the West at the banquet tendered to stock breeders and exhibitors for the Canadian National Exhibition yesterday were replied to by Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and A. E. Phillips, general manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

"The banks always have been very generous with the farmers of the West; and they haven't changed their policy," said Sir John in commenting on Mr. Woir's demand that the banks make their statements as to whether or not they will give credit next spring.

Instances cited by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture at the banquet in which a farmer and a rancher, as well as a stockman, had been given relatively small loans, were referred to by Sir John. Other considerations must have entered in, he said, "If the facts are as Mr. Woir says, the farmers are as Mr. Woir says, the banks are not responsible to the peripatetic bankers of the bank at Winnipeg, Calgary or Vancouver," said Sir John. "They had a right to do that or Mr. Woir might have a right later on to say some of the facts setting forth the circumstances, and I think everything would have been straightforwardly satisfactory."

The president of the Bank of Commerce stated that the banks at present have no intention of changing the policy for the formation of a company to aid the western farmers capitalized at $5,000,000 and which it is proposed to have backed up by the government, the railways and the banks.

Mr. Phillips declared that, instead of a shortage of credit to western farmers, the banks had been over-indigent.

Mr. Phillips' statement follows in part:

"The west is suffering from an over-indulgence in banking credit rather than a shortage of credit, with the result that many farmers are unable to get credit from their bankers for two or three times advances and some of their debts go back farther than that. It is people in this class that are continually clamoring for more assistance from the banks."

"This bank has thousands of customers throughout the west who keep their affairs in proper shape and who are always able to obtain the credit they wish. But once a farmer loses his credit, with more debt than he can possibly pay, it is futile for the banks to go on making further advances, which simply means giving away other people's money."

He repeated that banking credit is always been and still is liberally distributed in the west and in those cases where further credit cannot be obtained it is usually a case for government or charitable relief. Nothing is gained by lending to people who are not able to repay."

"I think it is time that somebody spoke out in the interests of the banks who have, over a period of years, been put in a position in loans and who have millions in frozen debts negotiated in past and present endeavors to assist the western farmer."

St. Godard Wins Dog Derby

Captures First Prize and Gold Challenge Cup

Ottawa, Ont.—St. Godard, Le Père Maréchal, ran his wife home last year in Ottawa's international dog-dish derby. The young "monarch of mush" without a grueling stretch drive by his fellow Manitoba "Shorty" Russek, Cranberry Portage, won $1,000 first prize money and the Chateau Laurier gold challenge cup.

The veteran from Cranberry Portage drove over the final 33½ miles left of the 100-mile race in less than nine minutes and 44 seconds. This was three minutes and three seconds better than St. Godard's time; but the lead up led by the latter in the two previous heats was enough to give him victory.

St. Godard's timed shape for the 100-mile derby route was nine hours, 18 minutes and 40 seconds. Russek required 9:22:30.

Canadian Is Candidate

Hrgt.-Gen. Critchley Enters By-Election Contest in Britain
London, England.—Although Lord Beaverbrook and his Empire crusading the sudden withdrawal of their candidate, Paul Springman, from the by-election fight of East Wellington, Ontario, has soon filled his place, Brig.-Gen. Malcolm Campbell, formerly of Calgary, Alta., has been chosen as the candidate of the crusaders and of Lord Rothermere's United Empire party. With the anti-socialist and Conservative Conservative vote were shattered.

Brig.-General Critchley was born in Calgary 10 years ago. He served with the First Canadian Division in France, going out as adjutant of the Strathcona Horse. He was later with the general staff. After the war, he was engaged in immigration to the Yukon and Central America. The general is vice-president of the British Portland Cement Association and is on the boards of other companies.

Kingston Welcomes Royal Travellers

Thousands Crowd Docks to Greet Prince of Wales and Prince George

Kingston, Jamaica.—Greeted by an ovation from 50,000 persons who crowded the docks, the Prince of Wales and his son, Prince George, stopped over here on February 4, on their voyage to South America.

Despite the busy day which awaited him on this island, the prince and his son found time to play polo at Constant Spring, six miles from here, and to attend a polo match.

In the evening the royal guests were guests of honor at a reception given by Governor Sir E. St. John and Lady Stubbs at Government House. There they met the high dignitaries of the island.

At the end of the official welcome the Prince of Wales pleased the crowd with a short speech. He said that brighter days were ahead and told the Jamaicans to face the future with courage.

The Radio Situation

Department of Justice Investigating Legal Aspects in Respect to Quebec

Ottawa, Ont.—Legal aspects of the radio situation in Quebec, particularly concerning the Quebec province, are being placed before the Department of Justice for consideration, announcement to effect was made here.

So far the Dominion Government has not received a copy of the report which the Taschereau administration is placing before the Quebec courts respecting the claims of the Quebec Government for radio control in that province. When these documents are received, however, they will be considered by the Department of Justice, and a decision will be made as to whether or not the Dominion authorities will be represented in Quebec.

Airplane Owners Sued

Ontario Woman Enters Action For Alleged Negligence

London, Ont.—Her first action law in Canada in which negligence in driving an aeroplane is alleged was called in the Court of Assizes of Middlesex County.

The accident occurred on July 27, 1930. The Aeroplane, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mackay and Harry Peterson of Sarnia, was making a landing at Fort Frank when, it is alleged, its wing struck Mrs. Mary McDevitt, of Kirkland Lake, as she was bathing in the lake.

She contended the owners of the plane were negligent in attempting to make a landing in the midst of a crowd of people and claims $10,000.

May Consider Naval Pact

Britain's Decision Depends On Action Of France and Italy

London, England.—The Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Sir Ernest Gruening, Canadian minister, unless France and Italy adhere to the principles of limitation of naval armaments Great Britain will have to reconsider her present control program.

The British Commonwealth, he said, was now building 46,145 tons in warships of which 2,656 tons were destined for Canada. France was building approximately 100,000 tons, and Italy 100,777 tons.

NEW ZEALAND 'QUAKE CAUSES GREAT SUFFERING

Auckland, N.Z.—As details of the story of Tuesday's February 1 quake disaster in the Hawke Bay region unfolded today, February 5, New Zealand appeared for the first time to realize the full import of the terrible tragedy.

A dozen or more dead bodies were scattered hither and thither above the stricken region, but against this dark background stood out deeds of splendid heroism and devotion. Into the dark desolation of the scene suddenly came the voices of men suddenly shouting, "Help! Help!" and nurses by the dozen, blazers jackets by the score, and relief of all manner.

A general order was issued demanding within two days the evacuation of Napier, capital of the Hawke Bay province, and the removal of the "quake." Authorities feared an outbreak of some terrible disease if survivors remained in the once busy seaport town. Arrangements had already been made to evacuate 5,000 women and children to Palmerston, north of Napier.

Messages placed the dead at Hastings between 80 and 100, and 21 identified. Napier had 48 identified dead bodies, and the bodies were unclaimed. At least 1,000 were injured, some critically, and other towns in the province were yet to be heard from.

The British cruiser "Dundonald" and "Dionaea" arrived at Napier and "Dundonald" took charge of relief measures. An intercepted message from Blaikie to the "Dundonald" anchored some distance off shore owing to the virtual destruction of the port. Badly harmed, requested an immediate supply of explosives, indicating the commandos planned to blow up all standing buildings to check the advance of flames.

Napier looked as if it had been bombed heavily by artillery. Streets were piled high with bricks and rubble, and once impregnable fine buildings, outside the business section, had collapsed under the weight of falling walls.

Others were trapped within, and, if they escaped the quick death of the tumbling walls and roofs, perished in the subsequent flames.

Rescue workers continued throughout the day and night.

Napier was unanimous in its praise for the officers and crew of the British ships "Dundonald" and "Dionaea" and the chief speaker.

Commander H. L. Morgan and his men went ashore immediately and started relief work. Many amputations and operations were performed, and the use of anesthetics owing to lack of supplies.

KARING FOR YOUR KAR

Terrible spelling, we admit, but it got your attention, didn't it? Let's hold it just a moment while we tell you what we know about Car Care:

We know that to give you perfect satisfaction your car must be co-ordinating in every unit. Timer right, gas line clear, cylinder clean, valves adjusted, engine greasing, and all the hundred and one little details absolutely tight. Oil must be of proper density and lubricating quality and the gas peppy enough to give you maximum mileage. The battery must be fully charged and the solution of proper strength. The tires must be in good condition, and the space must be in good shape and inflated ready for use if you have a flat on the road.

NOW OR NEVER

Residents of the Bassano Municipal District must become hospital supporters now or never. After February 15, 1931, they will have the opportunity of becoming hospital supporters again with the privilege of the special $1.00 a day hospital charges. Under the new regulation, they must join up now or stay out of it in future years. This new clause affects all residents of the hospital district who do not pay hospital taxes, whose tax has been taken care of to less than $6.00 a month. There is only one exception. Farmers who pay less than $6.00 hospital tax are not required to pay more than this amount to become hospital supporters.

Residents of the district who wish to become hospital supporters in the future should become hospital supporters at once. It is a splendid idea, and it will save them a great deal of money. They should do it now—at once. After February 15 it will be too late. Particulars of this scheme are given in an advertisement appearing in this issue of The Mail.

PRESENT LIQUOR ACT FAMILY SATISFACTORY

The effort of the prohibition forces of Alberta to abolish the beer rooms has passed beyond the petition stage and it will be brought up for discussion in the Alberta Legislature. The bill is designed to prohibit all prohibition secret, and they will be made known until the matter comes before the house.

Unless a very large number of electors have signed the petition the house will not be in session at the time for the government to call for a plebiscite on the question.

In their campaign for doing away with the beer rooms the prohibitionists have brought forward no strong arguments to support their case. On the other hand, they have a number of sound and reasonable arguments favoring the retention of our present laws affecting beer rooms.

The present liquor act is working fairly satisfactorily and should not be disturbed until it is proven there is a strong public demand. Under the present law the beer rooms in the districts may be closed if the necessary majority of people in that district so wish. This has happened in a number of instances, and in a great many more where a local option vote was taken the "dry" forces have won. The result of this in the districts clearly shows the trend of public opinion regarding the beer room question.

Since the present liquor act makes provision for local option in districts that will close the beer room, there is no good reason for desiring a province-wide vote on this question.

How Were You?

"Yes, sir, I believe that big wars are often caused by the smallest matter," ruminated old man Jones. "Things that a fellow thinks don't amount to a darn will often pile up a mountain of trouble for him."

Why, just the other night, my wife was having a bad time with her warts, and she looked up and asked, "What is a temple sheep?"

"And I replied 'eww,' and there was another big war on."

Forward Looking
May winter threaten eye so harsh,
And gnarling his hearing—
Though strewing ice and snow around us—
Yet, winter will be appearing.

And into the mists crowd thick and dark—
The blessed daylight hiding.
The sun will still wake up the earth,
In countless spring skies riding.

Though storms blow hard, and winter be

A blustering tormentor;

With steely steps, and laughing
mein,

Fair spring will softly enter.

Then will the earth joyously,
Strip off her cold and rigor;
Look smiling up to the sky,
And deck herself with violets.

To add their silvery treasure.

GETTING OUT A GOOD NEWSPAPER

"Getting out a good newspaper is a fascinating task, but it is also a difficult one," says the Linotype News, adding, "No other job that comes to the mind is quite so taxing, so harrowing, demands greater physical exertion." From the moment a newspaper is started it is either a daily or weekly, the work is carried on under pressure, a race against time. Put yourself in an editor's position! Could you do it?

"Could you, for example, spell correctly the names of a large percentage of the residence of this town? If you could do that, could you write their initials correctly without resorting to the telephone directory or other authority?

"Could you write down offhand the names of your city officials, your local school trustees, your county officials, getting all the names, initials and offices correct?

"Could you gather the threads of a story from half a dozen persons and weave them into an intelligent readable account the first writing?

"Could you decide the size and weight of mast-heads of 1200 or 1400 words each—in two or three days, week after week, year after year, and when you had finished those seven, pound out two or three columns more before putting them in?

"In writing a heading, could you call to mind in a moment enough exonyms so that you would not repeat the main thought in the same words?

"Could you judge in a minimum of time what size headings, and in what position in the paper could be given to each of the 75, 100 or more stories that might go into your column?

"Could you decide in a moment to exercise 'snap' judgement on the dozens of manuscripts in a newspaper office daily and get a majority of them correct?

"We won't tire you—but if you could do these few simple things and a thousand and one more difficult ones you should be a newspaper editor."

"The point we want to make is that you can produce a good newspaper only after continual diligent study and years of practical experience. You have dozens of persons remark that they could turn out a newspaper and a good one, too, a bit better in fact, than the one you are reading now. That is not true, unless they have gone through the years of study that a good newspaper demands of its makers."

"Were it not for the peculiar circumstances associated with the newspaper work there would be no newspapers, for there is a greater taskmaster, and more severe, would be far too scant compensation."

No One There
Harlen's favorite yarn is that of the spookey Caucasian gent who remarked to his sepiam valed.

He was a bit of a drunkard, I learned last night that I went to the negro sprague, it was very dirty and full of rubbish. And just packed to the heavenly gates with your people in tags."

"That's not like," said I, chuckled the cigarillo maduro lad. "Ah—darn dream! I went to the white folks' heaven. It shew was nice there. Flowers and pretty smells, and trees everywhere. But, Lordy, it was empty."

How Were You?
"Well, Joe, old kid, I landed a job in a drug store."

"Why, I didn't know you could cook."

She "Knows Her Groceries"

She orders by telephone—it's so convenient and saves so much time. Instead of spending an hour in a trip to the market, she makes better use of the time by getting her housework done early. She orders with perfect confidence because she literally "knows her groceries." They are advertised goods, widely known and widely used.

She purchases other necessities for her home, for herself, for her husband, and for her children with the same confidence. She buys advertised goods because she knows that the manufacturers of advertised articles must keep the quality up to the standard if public confidence is to be retained. She is representative of Canadian women who make their homes better, their families healthier, their lives easier and happier by using the advertisement.

An orator, warming to his task, took off his coat, which rather disconcerted the chairman of the meeting, who thought that a reporter would make a sensation out of the incident.

Toward the close, he said to the speaker: "Don't suppose you know when you removed your coat, that a newspaper man was present?"

"Yes, I did," was the reply, "but I kept my eye on the coat all the time."

Health Service OF THE Canadian Medical Association

Established 1867

GRANT FLEMING, M.D. - ASSOCIATE SECRETARY

If any one food can be called an essential food, milk is such a food. Beyond question, milk is the most valuable staple food we have at our disposal. There is no other food which can really take its place.

Milk is a food, not merely to drink. In milk are to be found practically all the substances which the body requires. As it is our best source of calcium, at the same time, it provides the materials for building strong bones and sound teeth.

Children must have milk if they are to grow properly and have strong healthy bodies. Milk is a complete food for the first months of life, and breast-feeding is far, the best for the baby. Cow's milk can never be more than a substitute for breast-milk.

The child grows older, he is given other foods, but during the early years of life, milk forms the basis of his diet. Every child should be given at least one pint of milk a day. This can be taken as a beverage, or it can be served of cereals or other foods, or made into soups, custards, and puddings. Milk is an essential food; there is no waste in it. Because we see it as a liquid, we are apt to forget about the fat, sugar, protein and minerals which it contains and which make it so nourishing.

Milk is the natural height of a baby's food, or merely as an accessory to be used to flavour tea or coffee. Milk and milk products, as butter and cheese, are foods which should be used by everyone, young and old. They, together with green, leafy vegetables and fruits, should be part of the daily diet throughout life.

We have said, milk is the most valuable food we have, but milk that becomes contaminated with the germs of disease is highly dangerous.

Milk from cows which have tuberculosis is responsible for the bovine form of tuberculosis, a disease in which the disease and crippled.

Milk contaminated with barnyard dust and dirt causes diarrhoea in children, which condition is responsible for the death of many infants.

In the handling, milk may become contaminated with the germs by the milker, or by the use of impure water, or by the milking utensils which have not been sterilized.

Milk should come from clean, healthy cows which are free from disease and should be handled in a cleanly manner. Before use, it should be pasteurized. Pasteurization destroys any disease germs which may have gained entrance to the milk during its preparation, or to the milk itself.

The milk should be pasteurized. Use milk because it is such a valuable food, but before you take it yourself and particularly, before you give it to your children, make sure that it is pasteurized.

Question concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

ANSWER TO HARD TIMES

"This year's display of car models is the answer of the Canadian automobile industry to the cry of 'hard times' said H. A. Brown, vice president and General Manager General Motors of Canada Limited. In an interview at the Montreal Show, "The new models are a direct answer to the usual numbers in former styles and appearance, and at prices lower than ever, demonstrate the capacity of the industry to weather these temporary and periodic storms." Mr. Brown expressed the view that the year 1931 would be a "constructive" year, and that there would be new efficiency in manufacturing and merchandising cars.

HOADS NOT FOR MOTORS: Prosecution and conviction of a Bermudan company for operating a traction on the public highway brings to light once more the fact that there does not seem to be any laws where roads which have not yet yielded to the requirements of transportation. The legislation which prohibits the use of horses on the public highway since the law was applied. This plea was in vain, however, as the company had a team of 10 pounds. The tractor was confiscated. The Crown prosecutor pointed out that exemption would be dangerous, as any kind of an engine, from a side-car to a double-decker motor bus, could be used to draw a stonewrester, and busses might simply by attaching a stone-wrester to the rear end.

HOW ONE WOMAN LOST 47 POUNDS OF FAT

I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 8 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning & dinner. At 167 pounds, was always bothered with indigestion & my waist & lower part of abdomen had sides.

"Now I am glad to say I am a well young & my weight is 120 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better & more trim.

"I shall never be without Kruschen Salts, will continue taking my Kruschen more than ever. Highly recommend it for the good food that is in it."

"P.S.—You may think I am exaggerating by writing such a long letter, but I would like to thank you for putting out such wonderful salts that I cannot say enough."

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

France is beginning to feel the effects of the world depression. Declining revenues are likely to result in a budget deficit of 40 million francs.

Russia has issued a general decree for peace. Lord Cecil declared in the House of Lords during a disarmament debate:

A. F. Ewing, K.C., Edmunds, has been named a division judge of the High Court of Alberta, replacing Mr. Justice Walsh, elevated to the Appellate division.

Frederick Martin Hale, 66, inventor of the Hale bomb with which the first Zeppelin was brought down, died Feb. 1 at his home in Great Yarmouth, England, on Feb. 2.

British manufacturers are realizing that they must vary their products to Canadian tastes, says Sir William Clark, British trade commissioner for Canada.

Record figures of the British Columbia sales pack for 1932 give a total of 2,231,819 cases or an increase of more than $80,000 over the year before.

The plan for the formation of a Pacific Chamber of Commerce uniting all British Empire countries bordering on the Pacific, is meeting with approval. W. E. Bayne, executive secretary of the board, says:

Action to expedite payment of the United States award to Victoria settlers is expected to the Cooper claim settled at Washington in 1914, is being asked from Ottawa by the B.C. Government.

British Boys For Canada

Liverpool Education Authority To Send Out Forty Youths To Dominion

The statement that the provincial governments of Canada had informed the British Education Authority that they take 1,500 boys from Great Britain in the coming year, and would guarantee their placement on approved farms was made at a meeting of the Liverpool education authority.

The Liverpool authority decided to send 40 boys to Canada. Presumably the announcement was an outcome of the recent conference of provincial representatives at Ottawa, but representatives from London, England, of the various provincial governments appeared recently to have received no instructions in the matter.

Canadian Pacific Railway Taking Four Hundred Barrels Daily

Arrangements have been completed between Ribstone Oils, Limited, of Calgary, and the Canadian Pacific Railway for the supply of 400 barrels of oil daily to the railway from the wells at Ribstone for use of main line locomotives operating through the mountains between Calgary and Vancouver.

The oil is transported from the field to McLaughlin station by means of a 14-mile pipe line to be built by the oil company, the total expenditure for this and other immediate requirements is estimated to be between $30,000 and $50,000. Col. J. H. Woods of Calgary is president of Ribstone Oils, Limited.

Using Wheat For Fuel

Oregone Farmers Find That Wheat Is a Cheap and Efficient Fuel

Out in Umatilla County, Oregon, Peter Weidert, farming between 6,000 and 7,000 acres, has a 10-ton wheat thresher which runs on fuel. He says wheat at $16 a ton makes a cheaper fuel than coal at $20 laid down at his ranch. The wheat makes a hot, even fire, particularly when burning hard wheat, Weidert declares. He says he has the cause of wheat as fuel fires ago, when he used it to bank fires in his old steam threshing machine.

During the磨 of a woman of the city, a sister, entered uninvited, with an ax and cut off the hair of the reclining on a couch in the customary manner at a feast. His head toward the door, Simon saw his feet stretched out behind Him. His sandals having been removed, the woman took off His coat and His shirt. When it lay upon her soul, to tell Him of her self-abasement, she said, "I have no means. As far as we know, she spoke not a word, but let her words speak for her. When the Pharisee was somewhat surprised, he was already recovered, and was confident he could plain Simon well. His feet with her tears moistened, she clasped them with her hands, and, anointed them with precious ointment. Then approached Jesus, who must remember that it was one of the greatest humiliations for a woman to be seen with her hair loose? Simon's act of respect was sometimes, but rarely, paid to rabbi. A man once said to Jesus, "Behold your friend, the Pharisee, has dined with me, and your host, Simon, because he had induced blind reverence in his son."

The Pharisee's Criticism, verse 39—Simon was scandalized at the woman's conduct and the Lord's acceptance of her. Even though Simon saw himself to himself, he would not admit that he had told the truth about the woman's conduct.

The Pharisee's Lesson, verses 40-46—Once Jesus showed Simon the way. He knew Simon's whole history but that He even read Simon's thoughts. "Simon I have somewhat thought of you," Jesus said, "but I have not yet heard of your sins. And then He told His plan of the "Two Debtors." One of them owed him five shillings and the other fifty shillings, but as neither of them had where to pay, He said, "I will forgive both. 'Which of them, therefore, will love me most?' Jesus questioned. Simon answered, "I suppose, really, carelessly certainly, with no thought of the bearing of the question, 'The Son of man has come to give the most'." Thus hast rightly judged," Jesus said, and then turned to Simon and said, "I now question, 'Seest thou this woman?'"

Then Jesus reminded Simon of his conduct, and the Pharisee, in turn, counseled a guest—the water for His feet, the kiss of greeting, the oil for His head. "With what grace and with the lavishness of the woman's offerings. It was evident that, unlike Simon, Jesus knew the secret sin of sin in all and no repentance, or he would have shown greater love. Then followed the parable of Love, verses 47-48. "Wherefore I say unto thee, her sins, which are many, are forgiven her, because she loved much." There are two possible interpretations of these words. One is that Jesus' love won the forgiveness. This was Coleridge's thought when he wrote:

"She sat and wept, and with her unuttered heart her sins were赦。 Still wiped the feet she was so blest to touch; And then wiped off the soiling of despair From her sweet soul, because she loved so much."

Labor Troubles Across the Line

Says Unemployment In United States

Despite the strenuous efforts of the president, Col. Woods and others to reduce unemployment, the situation, according to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, grows worse every day.

"Unemployment," said Mr. Green today, "has increased since December, and 5,700,000 wage earners in the United States were out of work in the first part of January. This compares with 5,500,000 in December, and these figures do not include farmer-labor or office workers."

JESUS THE FRIEND OF SINNERS

Golden Text: "Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."—1 Timothy 2:15.

Lesson: Luke 7.

Deuteronomy: Romans 5:1-8.

Explanations and Comments:

The Sinful Woman, Deut. Verse 35—Jesus' enemies invited Jesus to dine with him, and seemed to think this honor enough for the captain. So he sent a servant to call him. His enemies said an honored guest. "We are still in that epoch of transition," said Jesus. "The Pharisee and the Pharisee, although far advanced, was yet not perfect. He did not yet believe Him without difficulty. It has been supposed that this invitation was given to show the importance of the Pharisee's own reflection, ver. 30, shew he was heating between the two extremes which were made upon him and the antipathy which his caste felt against him."

During the磨 of a woman of the city, a sister, entered uninvited, with an ax and cut off the hair of the reclining on a couch in the customary manner at a feast. His head toward the door, Simon saw his feet stretched out behind Him. His sandals having been removed, the woman took off His coat and His shirt.

When it lay upon her soul, to tell Him of her self-abasement, she said, "I have no means. As far as we know, she spoke not a word, but let her words speak for her. Explosion Wrecked Engine Of Submarine

Twelve Men Injured But Cause Of Accident Unknown

Twelve men were injured, one critically, when an explosion of unknown origin wrecked the internal combustion engine of the submarine X-1, the newest underwater boat in the British navy.

She had left Sheerness for a trial run after reconditioning and had gone 20 miles on the surface to the Thames estuary when the blast occurred.

The injured men were treated on the ship and the submarine returned to Chatham on one engine. The extent of the damage was not immediately determined.

The injured men were treated on the ship and the submarine returned to Chatham on one engine. The extent of the damage was not immediately determined.

The X-1, an exceptionally strong construction, is designed for deep diving and can remain submerged for two and a half days.

The vessel is of mean, 2,800-ton displacement and equipped with six torpedo tubes. She has a surface speed of 19 knots and carries a crew of 110 men. She cost more than $25,000. The navy later gives her commander as E. M. C. Barracough.

BIG ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

Eleven countries have officially accepted the invitation to participate in the World's Fair Exposition and Conference, which is to be held at Regina, July 25 to August 6, 1932; namely, Italy, Peru, Yugoslavia, Guatemala, New Zealand, Czechoslovakia, Netherlands, Belgium, Poland, and Argentina. It is expected that fully 50 countries will have representatives present when the conference opens.

Result Is Encouraging

Disarmament Conference Is Making Progress With Work To Do

The results of the Disarmament Commission. The work has been going on for four years and more, and up till quite recently agreements did not seem probable on anything like a general scale to be made out. A framework at least has been provided, and into that framework the World Disarmament Conference, when it meets, must build a more secure and substantial edifice. Only then can the exact results for more than a year past be justified by the world's results.

ACID causes Headaches

Take a little whenever heartburn, sick headaches, nausea, faintness, etc., occur. If the digestive system is becoming too great an effort. Appetite lags; the digestion is poor; the whole system becomes fatigued.

Laboratory tests show an acid condition is due to errors in our modern diet. The acid waste, which we eat, takes a heavy toll of the body.

Take a tablespoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

This will neutralize the excess acid instantly, make you feel like a new person in just a few moments.

Electrical Detector

Discovery May Help To Lessen Rail-way Accidents By Detecting Faulty Rails

Alive, Electric Spikes on the "Train Mike" gyro wires made ocean travel safer. His latest discovery rises pell-mell to rid railroad tracks of the disasters due to rail accidents.

Sperry died a few months ago while trials were incomplete upon his electrical detector of the invisible cracks in rails, which have been an unending source of fatal accidents since the beginning of railroading.

Harcourt C. Drury, 52, electrical engineer of Sperry Products, Inc., recently told of the transverse fissures within the interiors of rails, fissures which grow like living things, their size often unforeseen by so much as an electric scratch, until the rail falls apart.

Worth Spelling Out

It is gratifying to note that the electric practice of abbreviating the name of the month "December" is passing into disuse. In its etymology, its associations, its priceless content, the name "Christmas" is well worth the time, and space taken to spell it out.

1 cup scalded milk 1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter 4 Royal Yeast Cake
1 1/2 cups flour 1 cup lukewarm water
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar

To this scalded milk add the butter, sugar and salt. Allow it to cool until lukewarm and then add dissolved yeast and 1 1/2 cups flour. Stir well and let stand in moderately warm place overnight. In the morning, add enough flour to work with, and let stand until the dough is doubled, then roll out 1/2 inch thick. Cut with biscuit cutter and brush each piece with melted butter, crease through center and fold over. Let rise again until double in bulk and bake for about 25 minutes in moderate oven. Above is sufficient for about ten rolls.

Little Helps For This Week

"Wherefore, beloved, be diligent that ye may be found of Him in peace, without spot, and blameless."

2 Peter 1:14.

Then must be true thyself. If thou the truth wouldst teach: Thy soul must overflow; and in another's soul thy reach;

Shall then the overflow of heart;

To give the truth;

Truthfully, and thy thoughts shall then the world's fame feed;

Show a friend thy truth;

Truth truly thy life shall be A great and noble creed.

One Good Honey Market

Large Quantities Imported By West German Part Of Empire

Large quantities of honey are imported into the port of England from New Zealand, California and Canada for the better grades and from Chile, Jamaica and Siberia for the commoner grades.

From Canada alone $34,473 in 1924, to 21,184,000 pounds valued at $134,254 in the year ended March 31, 1930.

The demand for domestic consumption has been very large, especially of white clover, which fine grain and fairly strong flavor—not the pungent one met with in buckwheat varieties.

Newspaper Advertising Profitable

British Radio Manufacturers' Association Makes Successful Deal

After years of experiment, officials of the British Radio Manufacturers' Association are convinced that news advertising is the most productive form of sales promotion.

The association, representing leading British radio and allied manufacturers, had made $5,000,000 in advertising in news media last year. This was an increase of 10 per cent, and during the period manufacturers' turnover increased 40 per cent. "Scientific market research," said an official, "reveals that the investment of $5,000,000 in advertising has yielded dividends in total business to the extent of $30,000."

Sweet and nutritious, Mother Goss' Worm Eatinator is acceptable to children, and it does its work surely and promptly.

Plants Store Water

Vine In Arid Regions Can Store Silicified Water To Last 15 Years

A vine in the arid regions of Arizona and Sonora, Mexico, where an expanded base in such quantities that it has been known to live on its reserves for 15 years, Dr. Daniel T. MacDougall, director of the Desert Laboratory at Tucson, Ariz., said recently in a radio talk on "The Thirst of Man."

"A tree cactus," he added, "may hold many hundreds of gallons of surplus water. Many plants in that region can store a water supply in which would keep them alive until 1933 or 1934."

An acre of cabbage will use 2,000,000 quarts of water in a season, and 200 peach trees on an acre require nearly double that amount. One of these trees loses about 80 quarts of water as vapor daily from its leaves."

A patent has been granted for a process for making milk from a combination of coconut milk and pressed fresh meat.

Today's Best Story

Two hundred years ago, a Danish man named Christian Heinecken, was the most-talked-of child in the world.

He was able to speak within a few hours of his birth, at ten months he could converse intelligently in Latin, and when he was two years old he had become thoroughly acquainted with the Old Testament.

Ill-health caused his death at the age of five.

REGULAR PAINS?

SOME women suffer more than others. Often, when there isn't any pain, they will check their throat, or ease the sore throat; and comfort the worst suffered from neuritis and neuralgia.

Will your head aches from any cause—when a cold has settled in your joints, or you feel those deep-down pains of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, take Aspirin and you can count on real relief.

Gay turned from the window, her throat aching with an intolerable pain. The lightning was intermittent now, and the rain was falling in a distant drizzle. She went into the kitchen and heated milk for baby Nick—gave Sonny his supper, and leaving the soiled dishes where they were, put both little boys to bed.

"She wants Daddy," said Sonny sleepily, as she tucked him in. "Me wants Daddy—teebby."

Gay kissed him, and held him close.

"Mother wants Daddy, too, little boy," she said gently. "When you wake up we'll surely be here. Now go right to sleep. Think how glad Daddy'll be to see us in the morning!"

Sonny went into the room, and for a long time lay beside himself, with unimportant things, because she dreaded to go to the lonely room below. She lay and slept, and then, an hour elapsed by, when she washed the dishes, and cleared away the remains of Nick's supper. She tried to eat something herself, but the taste was bad, and was rather than the shower having settled into a steady downpour that threatened to last all night. She swept the kitchen at last, and dusted the living-room and hall, her ears alert for the longest time of an automobile; but it did not come.

"I hope Nick took an overcoat," she thought again. "It's so careless sometimes, and it was warm this morning. I do hope they're almost home." It must have been horrific driving a car in such a rain. I wonder if they took chains . . . This mud will make slippery going . . . I hope he won't drive too fast . . . It's queer they're so late . . . perhaps there's an accident.

She thrust back the thought in horror; but as much thoughts will, it kept returning, and after a few steps she turned to the window, although she could not beyond the glass. At last, in an effort to calm herself, she tried to read, but the house seemed suddenly alive with noise. She heard voices that sounded like a storm, footsteps—branches splintering against

MOTHER OF TWINS HELPED

Restored to Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mitchell, Ont.—"I had twin babies and for quite a while after I was unable to work because of pains all over my body, especially in my legs at the back. I also had headaches and aching in my back and sleep. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon I was able to get up and about again. I had to give up my work because of my weight and strength. I will gladly recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who has had twins."

Rheumatism Routé. Rapid Relief.

Mr. Arthur Padgett, of Barnesley, writes:—"For the last few years I have suffered from rheumatism. I suffered great pain in the back and neck, and various remedies will not give me relief. I have tried to try at once Carter's Little Liver Pills for relief. I am a miner, and I strongly recommend your valuable pills to suffers from rheumatism, indigestion and constipation."

Cannot Finance Work

Though the B.C. Government favors a line to the Peace River, its funding is still uncertain. It is evident the work of extending northward the publicly owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

SANDFORD — POWELL

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percival Powell, Bassano, Saturday, February 7, between their young daughter, Eunice Gertrude, because the bride of Mr. Charles Stewart Sandford, of Lethbridge. The ceremony was performed at high noon by Rev. P. C. McRae, in the presence of the parents of the bride and groom.

The happy young couple left for Calgary on a honeymoon trip. They will reside near Lethbridge.

DUCK LAKE NEWS

A jolly surprise party descended on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harper on Wednesday, February 7. The guests arrived at the home of Mrs. F. Thew, then the line of cars proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. St. John. The excitement had calmed a little, preparations commenced for enjoying the evening. Two tables of dishes were started and after some of the men brought McKinlee's piano, dancing began in earnest.

When every George found his Martin and every Wagner his Jiggs, excellent supper was served. Then began the games and chaff of the evening, which lasted till the wee hours.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Naglone entertained at dinner on the evening of Feb. 10, 1924, their infant daughter, Marie Carol, was celebrating her first birthday.

Friday February 13 is awaited with eager anticipation by the children of Selk Lake School. A valentine party is the order of the day. The afternoon will commence with relations and parents, the morning postman will distribute the gaily colored messages. Then the kiddies will be made most happy with cakes and other Valentine goodies provided by the women of the district.

Legislature Notes

for revision of the provincial election act. He added further material for thought to that given by the Conservative leader, when in his speech on Friday he signified his return to the legislature after a ten year absence by declaring that either the electorate would vote him in again in sufficient numbers proportionate representation should be applied to rural ridings in order that the legislature might more fully represent the majority of the electors.

Mr. Montgomery said there was nothing wrong with the 1922 spilt ballot out of a total of 152,000 can was reported at the last session. There was too much confusion, the Wetaskiwi member thought, in the system for voting, federal, civic, and provincial.

This member chimed the premier over his haste in calling the general election in 1920 instead of 1921, hinting that things would not have been so propitious for the U. F. A. party if the election had been delayed until this coming summer. Well in this the Liberal members for Wetaskiwi seemed to improve upon the statement of the attorney general, that either the premier or his party was to blame.

It was like a meeting of blades before a duel to the finish. The administration will carry any legislation it may present later, on any subject whatever, by sheer weight of its majority. But the legislation will pass only on the support of the co-operative and keenest criticism by the royal opposition in the Alberta house.

No man knows more than Premier Brownlee does that he cannot afford to ride roughshod over the wishes of the public in face of such an opposition as exists in the Alberta house today under Capital Hill. The opposition under its different leaders is making itself vocal. The arena of public opinion after all remains the final decisive field in the fray. The Liberal, Conservative, and U. F. A. legislators are placing their backs before the sovereign people of Alberta in the debate.

It is a question of whose case will find the largest appeal to the electors.
